Design Contest FAQ

1. My design contest idea has been selected. Will I be provided with free conference registration or do I need to register for the conference?
    a. We encourage you to take advantage of early bird offer and register for all days. Since the winners will be announced on Day 2 of the event, request all participants to register for Day2 as a minimum.
2. My design contest idea has been selected. Will I be provided with accommodation and travel?
    a. Unless the selected teams have also been selected for fellowship awards, all travel and accommodation arrangements should be made by the participants. We request you to make arrangements at the earliest and not wait till the last minute.
3. I submitted the design contest idea. When will I hear back from the team?
    a. All acceptances have been notified on 4th of November
    b. After careful considerations and multiple reviews, all rejections have been notified on 11th of November.
4. I got a selection email. When will my hardware kit be shipped?
    a. The kits were shipped on 8th of November. All kits have been delivered to the selected teams.

5. I received my kit. I need technical support. What should I do?
    a. You can send an email to support_vlsid2023@microchip.com and you will get a quick turnaround.
6. I received my kit. What are the next steps?
    a. Implement your idea to be showcased at the VLSID conference exhibit halls for 3 days.
    b. Refine your idea as you do your implementation and upload your final paper at the softconf link
7. What are the prizes?
    a. Will be announced later